

Payment Network of the Future

Pay with crypto or digital currency online and at the point of sale.

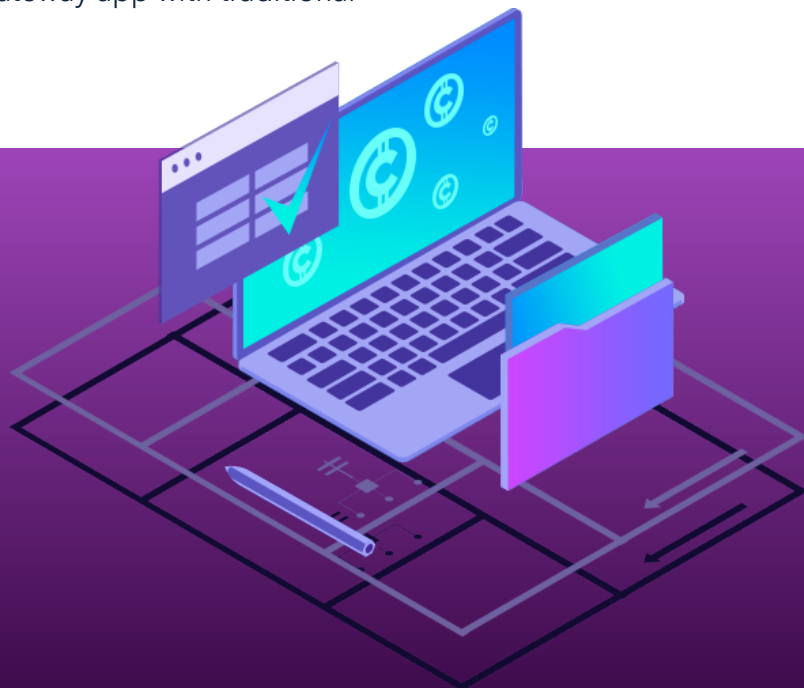

Monetize your products, services and excess capacity in an evolutionary smart contract blockchain powered marketplace.

Recipico is the first ever to combine a crypto currency and digital currency in a gateway app with traditional and smart contract commerce to enable real time payments and transaction processing with minimal transaction cost.

The Recipico Network features blockchain powered marketplaces and account management portals for buyers & sellers.

Members and merchants transact business and facilitate the purchase and sale of products, services & assets online and at the point of sale with crypto and digital currencies.

Buy the products and services you want with digital or crypto currencies.

Unique Model

Recipico enables new payment possibilities in industries as diverse as venture capital, health care, supply chain, hospitality, advertising, media, retail, and many others. It facilitates new forms of tradable assets that make it possible to trade or monetize illiquid assets such as equity, real estate, excess hotel room inventory, empty seats in restaurants and unsold perishable media for crypto and digital currency, which can be traded, used for purchasing, or converted to cash.

Proof of Concept

Our trade professionals have been instrumental in facilitating hundreds of millions of dollars in successful trade transactions for clients for over 25 years. From excess inventories, production or capacity to unsold room night inventories, trade has enabled clients to enjoy full value for illiquid assets that are converted to spendable currency to offset business and personal expenses.

Team

Recipico has seasoned leadership in business management, finance, barter, and the alternative capital industry to provide innovative strategies and solutions required to meet the needs of our international client base. Our team relies on unparalleled transaction management, monitoring and evaluation, smart contract technology, team management, barter domain expertise, and stakeholder experience in order to ensure our clients' and investors' satisfaction and success.

Clear Roadmap

The journey began with building an online crypto and digital currency marketplace, the development of a mobile gateway app to convert crypto to digital and back to crypto, the FlippCard dual currency debit card, and the FlippCoin, stored value coin to gift or spend at events.
